

Insurance companies and Takaful operators looking for technology enabled solutions to transcend the digital era and to overcome current IT challenges; AETINS offers its solutions and services.

There are too many happenings with disruptive technologies (Big Data, IOT, Analytics, Blockchain, Robotic Process Automation, Machine Learning, Drone, Security, industry 4.0, etc.) that are changing the way businesses are traditionally operated. Insurers have to strategize and evaluate how these technologies can be harnessed to transcend the digital era.

The following are some of the key considerations of Insurers;

- Robust Core Insurance System that will enable straight through processing.
- Modernize the Core Insurance System if it not feasible to replace.
- Componentize processes, business rules, services, connectivity, interoperability, etc. so that the system is flexible to accommodate new business requirements, new regulatory compliance and new technology emerging.
- Portals to engage customers so that they become advocates.
- Portals and mobile apps for selling and servicing on-the-spot
- Speed to market quirky and personalized insurance products.

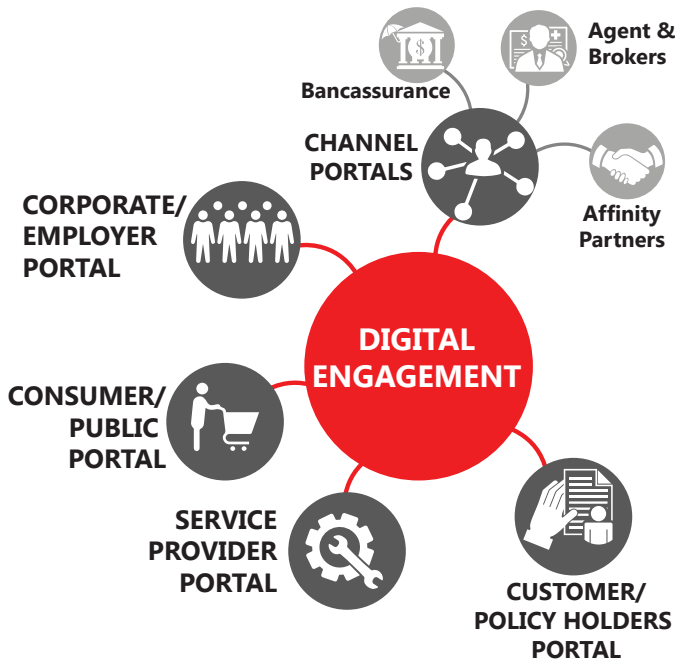

AETINS supports the considerations with integrated core insurance system built over building blocks and components, which gives the flexibility to uncouple according to the needs of its Clients.

Insurance Solution Framework (ISF)

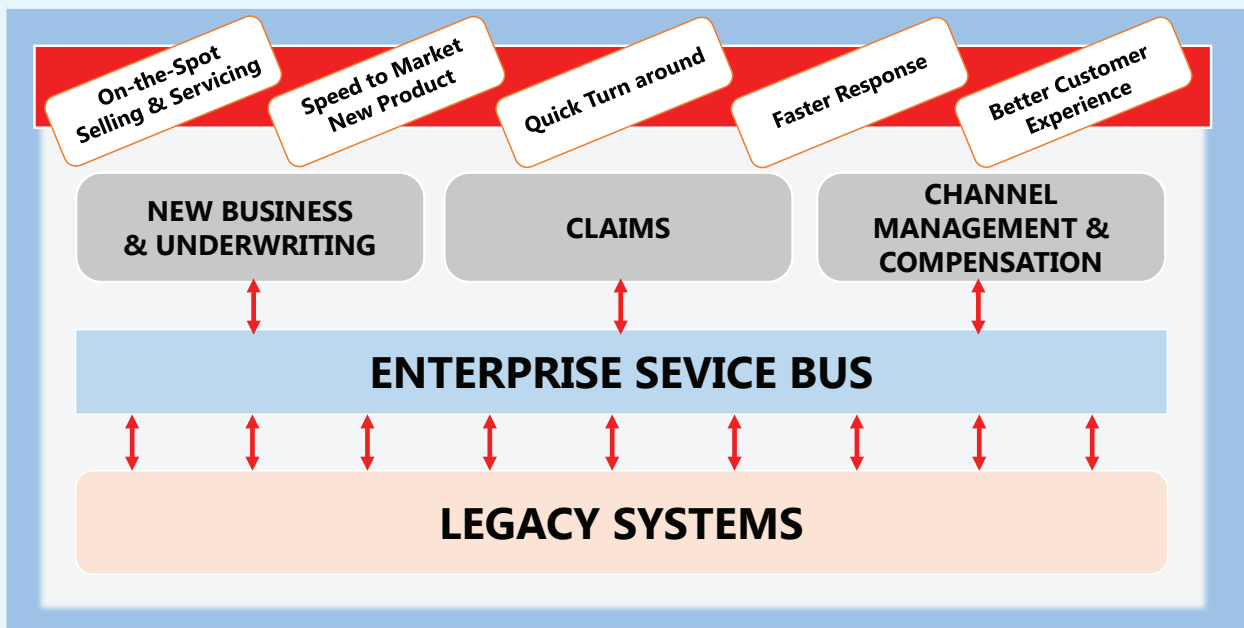

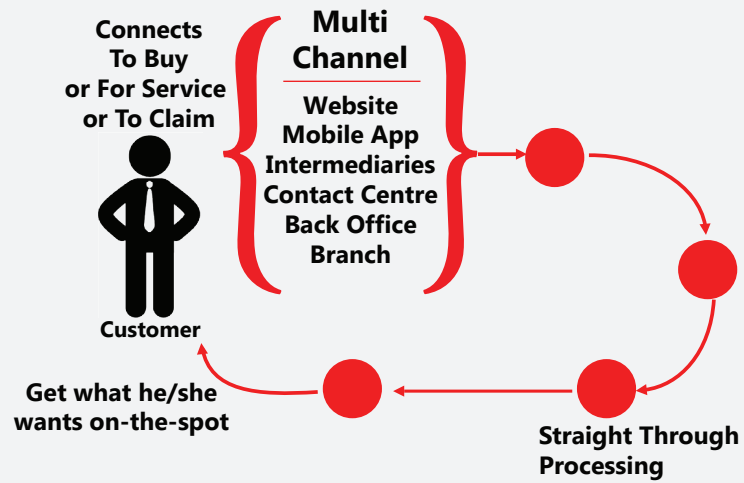

The base digital engagement is offered that can be enhanced according to the preferences of Clients, which can be integrated with ISF or with any other core insurance system.

The product configurator allows for configuring most of the products conceived by Insurers by Business Users in a simple and natural way to launch products within days.

ON THE SPOT SELLING & SERVICING

ISF is powered by ORACLE and JAVA.

More flexibility & componentizing is offered with ISF bpm, which is powered by IBM BPM, IBM ODM, & IBM Integration Bus

The ISF product configurator allows to configure most of your products by business users in a simple and natural way to accelerate speed to market.

There is a big difference in engaging IT Experts who specializes in IT only and IT Experts with Insurance Knowledge, Skills and Experience for delivering expected solutions and implementing solutions faster. There is also a big difference in employing IT partners engaged in insurance business only compared to IT partners, who can work on written requirements.

AETINS specializes in technology enabled solutions for insurance industry only. It invests in learning new business needs of insurance industry and harnessing new technologies to benefit the strategy and operations of Insurers.
