BEYOND STRONG PROCESSING

CAPABILITIES, Finys mobile channels support stringent requirements for 24/7 self-service by agents, vendors, and insureds. These capabilities meet the most important market demands of today's users and can provide access to Finys Suite functionality as required.

Portals and mobile devices are becoming the preferred gateway for communication between the insurance industry and consumers. They help reduce customer service costs while improving customer and agent retention. No modern insurance processing system is complete without these capabilities.
